

Good morning Hamburg School community. These are additional items of interest for the week of February 28, 2022.

Love of Reading - This week schools across the country will celebrate “Love of Reading Week.” Each day will have a special theme. For the complete schedule and additional information regarding each day, view the document on the Digital Backpack.

Monday - Crazy Hat Day
Tuesday - All For Books Pajama Day
Wednesday - READ ACROSS AMERICA DAY
Thursday - Mismatched Day
Friday - FREE TO READ DAY

Mask Use - Effective March 7th, the use of masks by students, staff and visitors is optional. For more information, including the potential exceptions and drawbacks, please see Mrs. Sigman’s letter to the school community. Please contact the Health Office if you have any questions or concerns.

Positive Case - We have been made aware of an individual that tested positive for COVID-19. This information was shared between February 20th and this morning. See the letter for more information.

Congratulations : 5th and 6th Graders on the Wallkill Valley Basketball team beat Sparta Thursday evening to advance to the next round of the league playoffs. The boys will take on Denville tomorrow night. Good luck guys!

Atlantic Health : For a list of community events hosted by Atlantic Health, view the schedule on the Digital Backpack. Most programs are virtual and are designed for adults.

For additional information regarding any of these topics or events, please check the school’s website and Digital Backpack. Have a great week!
